

DONALD L. JAMES

Partner with the firm of Brown & James, P.C. (1982-present)

Education: United States Arbitration & Mediation, Midwest, Transitional Training (2003); AAA Securities Arbitrator Training; AAA ADR Mediation Training; University of Missouri Mediation Training; J.D., Saint Louis University School of Law (1963); B.S., Saint Louis University (1958).

Accomplishments: Mr. James was an attorney with Moser, Marsalek, Carpenter, Cleary, Jaeckel, Keaney & Brown (1963 to 1981). Mr. James was an Instructor of Business Law, SLU School of Commerce and Finance (1973-1974). He was also an instructor at Webster University in Business Law for the masters program. He conducted doctoral seminar in school law for Ph.D. candidates in education at Saint Louis University. Since 2000, his entire efforts have been in mediation and arbitration. He has been an Arbitrator for AAA for over 30 years, primarily handling construction arbitration. Mr. James has also mediated medical malpractice and auto accident cases. Prior to 2000, he was primarily engaged in litigation. A significant amount of the practice was in construction law.

Affiliations: Admitted to the Bar: Missouri and Federal (1963); Tax Court of the United States (1966); United States Supreme Court, (1970); U.S. Court of Claims (1987). Missouri Bar Association; Board of Governors (1978-1980); Federation of Defense and Corporate Counsel; Lawyers Association of St. Louis Award of Honor 2001; Fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers.